President Law Optimistic

E. G. Law, president of The Fuego Oil Company, who arrived in Oyen yesterday from Toronto, paid a visit to the site of the well in the morning. In spite of difficulties recently encountered, Mr. Law is optimistic of the future. New 18 inch drive casing is being obtained and is expected in a few days. With this in place much of the trouble will be eliminated, and it is hoped that work will proceed more smoothly. Mr. Law, who originally came west only on a hurried visit, may stay in the district for about a month.

WEDDING

Steeves - Marsden

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on July 2, when Miss Annie Marsden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsden, of Excel, became the bride of Mr. Guy Reginald Steeves, of Vancouver. The ceremony was held in the First Baptist Church, Vancouver and conducted by Dr. J. J. Ross, the pastor. A few intimate friends were present among whom was Mrs. Geo. Smith formerly of Sibbald. The bride wore a very becoming grey suit and had in similar shade with a bright wreath of flowers. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests drove to Love's Cafe where a dainty repast was served. The young couple will make their home in Vancouver.

7th. Fortnightly Crop Report

Issued by Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Saturday, July 12, 1924.

The stages have now been reached in the growing season of Alberta grain crops when it is possible to make a more or less definite statement with respect to present conditions, and their bearing on the prospects for harvest.

Review of the conditions now prevailing as reported to the Department from all parts of the Province, and in view of the very satisfactory conditions under which the grain crop was seeded this spring, the statement now to be made must be somewhat disappointing. The past fortnight has been very warm, with hot, dry winds in most localities, relieved to some extent by rains in certain districts, but for the most part without precipitation. This has brought conditions to a stage where grain is heading out from ten to fifteen inches, in certain areas, and beginning to feel the lack of moisture. Pasturage also in many parts has suffered as a consequence. Should general rains come within the next week, the prospects generally speaking would be greatly improved, particularly with respect to later sown grain. Such rains would alter the situation sufficiently to ensure prospects of a fairly good crop.

The south west portion of the province, from Calgary south to the international border and west of a line passing through Lethbridge, enjoys the most satisfactory conditions of any section of the province. In this district rains have been more frequent, and the prospects are for a very good crop.

With respect to the remainder of the province, conditions are very patchy, the grain showing a healthy growth where rains have been frequent and heavy. The south-eastern part of the province has suffered rather severely during the past two weeks from lack of moisture, and this is also true of some portions of the east central district as far north as the main line of the Canadian National Railway, and some portions of the west central district as far north as Lacombe, where very dry conditions at present prevail. In all this territory, the grain is heading out with short growth. Helms within the next week would considerably enhance the prospects of the crops in this territory, but the prospects at present are for less than a normal crop.

In the district surrounding Edmonton, and to the east of the city some 100 miles, and north and north-east for about half that distance, the grain is in a very fair condition, and with further rains, the prospects may be said to be very satisfactory.

The Peace River and Grande Prairie districts are suffering from lack of moisture, and rainfall is urgently needed to ensure a crop.

Good rains fell in the Edmonton territory a week ago, and in the Calgary territory about the same time, but beyond this reports indicate that precipitation during the past fortnight has been limited to small local showers.

Crops on the irrigated districts of the south are in splendid shape, and the prospects are for a good harvest from these areas. Alfalfa has been a successful crop.

United States and the League of Nations

A proposal for a national referendum on the question of the United States entering the League of Nations has come from the platform committee of the Democratic National Convention, and should the Democrats carry the election of members to the Senate and House of Representatives, the proposal for such a referendum will undoubtedly be vigorously urged.

The League of Nations is only four years old, but there is already included in its membership fifty-five nations representing more than three-quarters of the area and population of the world. Only eight countries are still outside the League, namely, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Afghanistan, Mexico, Russia, Turkey, Germany and the United States. With the signing of the Treaty of Locarno, Turkey announced her intention of applying for membership, and Germany will not doubt be admitted as soon as the present abnormal economic and political situation is settled. Russia is antagonistic and at present ineligible due to her peculiar political constitution.

Playing the game of party politics in the United States kept that country out of the League, notwithstanding the great part taken by the late ex-President Wilson and his colleagues in drafting the League Covenant. There has, however, always been a strong sentiment in the United States in support of the League of Nations and favorable to membership and active participation in its work by the United States. That sentiment has been kept alive and developed by the League of Nations Society in the United States, and by powerful public men, newspapers and organizations.

The large measure of success achieved by the League during the past four years has also had its effect in convincing thousands of people who, in the United States, are elsewhere, that the League of Nations (International) organization could be created, maintained and be made effective based on a mutual understanding of international co-operation and goodwill and to achieve international peace and security. To many the idea seemed visionary, too Utopian, and altogether impracticable.

However, in a space of time actually shorter than the Great War, the League of Nations has been successful in settling three disputes which otherwise would almost certainly have resulted in wars; caused the cessation of hostilities between Poland and Lithuania; stopped a war actually in progress between Yugoslavia and Albania, and, through the instrumentality of the Permanent Court of International Justice established by the League, settled a serious dispute between Great Britain and France.

The League saved Austria from bankruptcy and has established that country firmly on the way to prosperity, thus preventing further trouble in Europe which inevitably would have followed the break-up of that country. It is now engaged in similar work for Hungary.

Through its International Labor Bureau, which consists of representatives of Governments, employers and employed, the League is improving industrial conditions by raising the standards of labor uniformly throughout the world, thus removing the old excuse that labor conditions could be improved in one country because of the lower standard prevailing in other countries in competition with it.

Action taken by the League stopped the extension and ravages of the plague of typhus which threatened to overrun all Europe. The League secured the liberation of half a million prisoners of war held in Russia long after hostilities had ceased. It is raising an organized world-wide movement against the opium and drug traffic, as well as for the suppression of the traffic in women and children. It is engaged in scientific research and campaigns for the prevention of disease, and wherever a danger spot of plague arises there the League concentrates its good health forces.

The League of Nations is the greatest existing agency doing practical work for the reconstruction of the shattered nations of Europe, upon the rehabilitation of widows, dependents and orphans of the war. It is the one existing human agency carrying in itself the hope of all peoples for the maintenance of peace, and the ultimate disarmament of the nations. It is carrying on this work at a very cost not more than the upkeep of one first-class modern battleship.

The Great War cost Canada over one and one-quarter billions of dollars, not to mention the still more tragic loss in human life, in bodies crippled and shattered, in untold agonies of death. The after-cost of the war to Canada this year will be $54,720,000, or over one million dollars a week. On the other hand, Canada's contribution to the upkeep of the League of Nations, the only existing human agency capable of preventing war, will be only $198,658, or less than four thousand dollars a week. That is our national insurance premium against war.

These things are having their effect on the people of the United States and all the League issue could only be separated from party politics in our sister Republic, there is little doubt that the result of the people there would be. Hence the plan of a national referendum is to be welcomed. In the meantime, as the only North American member of the League, it is Canada's duty and privilege to uphold the security and prosperity of the world, and in their intercourse with United States citizens, whether personal or in their business relationships, Canadians should strive to promote sentiment favorable to the League of Nations, and show very clearly that they are looking forward hopefully to the day when the United States will occupy its place in the brotherhood of nations, and in that long-dreamed-of Parliament of Man represented by the Council and Assembly of the League of Nations.

WHEN YOUR THROAT IS SORE

It may be only a slight sore throat, but it is a sign of trouble.

But little colds soon grow large and dangerous. Often they become chronic, and may end in consumption. Catarrh of the throat draws inflammation on the throat. Relieves the cough, cures the throat, and kills any germs lodged in the mucous lining of the throat or lungs.

Dr. J. H. HALL, JR., of New York, N. Y., writes: "I have used your throat lozenges for many years, and they are the best I have ever used. They prevent colds and cures. Get your bottle now. It is small, and it is small size 50¢; sold by druggists. Refuse a substitute for Catarrh lozenges. By mail from The Catarrh lozenges Co., Montreal."

Heart Disease Not So Common As Is Thought

Main Cause Is Rheumatic Fever, Says Dr. Parkinson, Great London Authority

There is a world of good cheer and encouragement to those who imagine they have, or have been told they have, heart disease, in the emphatic declaration of Dr. John Parkinson, of London, England, in his address at the general gathering of the Canadian Medical Association in annual convention at Ottawa.

Dr. Parkinson stated that a great range of troubles are placed under the heading of heart disease wrongly. There are many ailments, such as heart disease, such as nervous strain, and so on, which do not really cause permanent damage to the heart. The heart disease, like the strained heart, is a myth, and the tobacco smoke may go blinding along with the full knowledge that tobacco has nothing to do with heart disease.

Dr. Parkinson states emphatically that the evidence of tobacco causing permanent disease of the heart is very small indeed. It is easy to show that the early reported cases were due to smoking. Smoking has a slight effect in increasing the heart rate and raising the blood pressure, but it gives occasion during actual smoking and for sometime afterwards. There is no good evidence that it causes permanent injury to the heart.

The main cause of heart disease, according to this eminent British authority, is rheumatic fever, such complaints as palpitation, dizziness, fainting, weakness need not necessarily give an impression that heart disease is present.

Drives Asthma Like Magic. The immediate help from Dr. J. H. Hall's Asthma Remedy is almost magical. Nevertheless it is only a natural remedy used in a natural way. The smoke of vapor, reaching the most remote passage of the affected tubes, breaks up the trouble and opens a way for fresh air to enter. It is open to all who breathe through the land.

Vancouver Wants Harding Memorial

Late President Won Hearts of People During His Visit

The decision of the Kiwanians to erect a memorial in Stanley Park to the late President Harding has been met with the approval of the people of Vancouver who will applaud heartily. President Harding was the only American chief executive to visit Canada during his term of office, and the spot where he delivered his message of friendship and goodwill to the Canadian people has, therefore, an historic interest which should be recognized.

That apart from this, President Harding during his visit to Canada was a popular figure, and the hearts of Vancouver citizens as well as have been able to win them, and raised enthusiasm to a pitch which will long be remembered. Warren C. Harding will not rank among the greatest of American presidents, but he was a man of many qualities, and his love of his fellow men were greater, and it was these human qualities that appealed on that July day last year—Vancouver Province.

British Officer Finds Stone Age Tribe in Arabia

A stone age tribe has been discovered by a British officer in a journey made in unknown Arabia.

Captain R. E. Cheeman, formerly private secretary to Sir Percy Cox in Baghdad, has just returned from an expedition into Arabia in the unknown territories of the Sultan of Nejd.

He is the first European to have reached the state of Jahila, the position of which has long been a matter of speculation to geographers. The inhabitants of this region, with physical and linguistic peculiarities, and virtually pagan, are possibly the survivors of the pre-Arab population. He is at present with his party of twelve men and a few camels, and is in the stone age and are great thieves.

Seeing Through The Skin

French Scientist Claims That It Is Possible To See Through the Skin

The startling statement has been made by M. Jules Romain, a French scientist, that the blind might actually see—not with their eyes, but with the skin of the face, neck and chest. Apparently, according to M. Romain's theory, such a gift is common to all, but in the average person the seeing power of the eyes overcomes the weaker sight of the other organs. It is stated that it would be possible for us to see in a surrounding circle from various angles of the body through "myriad eyes."

The first essential for the man or woman who wishes to develop this gift is to bring about a complete concentration of all his activities. Concentration is the key to the elapse before the result of this quiet concentration can become apparent. Stings of about an hour's duration, a period in which the individual is able to the patient to perceive light, and then to visualize shapes and sizes of surrounding objects. The progress is assured, and in time M. Romain claims that it is possible to read as easily as rapidly and accurately as one would with the eyes.

The three cruisers of the special service squadron entertained 70,000 visitors during their 10-day stay in Vancouver harbor. On the last day, close to 2,500 children alone were taken over the ships. Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Field said: "We have all immensely enjoyed our visit to British Columbia. Both officers and men have been absolutely overcome with the kindness and hospitality of the people, and have been tremendously impressed with the resources and prospects of the country." Two hundred of the visiting sailors were entertained July 5 to New Westminster and Cloverdale, the day's program including the inspection of logging camps.

Hasty Marriages

Woman More Responsible For Divorce In Germany Than Man

The female sex is more often responsible for divorce in Germany than man, according to a report issued by the statistics department of the German Government.

The report declares the first five years of married life are the happiest and after that those who survive the ninth year seldom are divorced. War marriages have proved a bad failure. The haste in which most of these were contracted has caused equal haste in getting them undone. There were 30,000 divorces in 1921 and 38,000 in 1922. Statistics show that Germany is continuing to average more than double the number of divorces granted before the war.

Industrial Disputes Act

Claim Made That Senate Amendment Only Complicates Matters

Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, moved in the House an amendment to the Industrial Disputes Act, passed by the senate putting the appointment of a chairman of the board of arbitration in the hands of the chief justice, he not concurred and that the bill be referred back to the senate.

The objection of the minister was that the amendment introduced in the senate only complicated the operation of the Industrial Disputes Act. The motion was carried on division.

A Severe Attack Of Heart Trouble Was Relieved By MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills

WEDNESDAY, JULY 16

Alberta University debating team will meet the Oyen team in a debating team, headed by M. J. MacDonald, son of Britain's Premier, some time this fall when the Britishers come to Western Canada.

Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Alberta's Minister of Agriculture, returned the past week from Great Britain, where he was official representative of Alberta at the Empire Exposition at Wembley. Mr. Hoadley declares that the Canadian exhibit at Wembley was the outstanding one of the Empire, and attracted a vast amount of attention and that Alberta had a prominent place in the composite exhibit. Mr. Hoadley spent some time in Britain and Denmark, Holland and elsewhere giving special attention to problems of marketing and production. He held several important conferences with British authorities and interests on these matters, and has brought back with him definite plans concerning marketing of grain and emigration of British settlers to Alberta which he will place before the Alberta Cabinet.

According to an official statement of the Alberta Wheat Pool, which operated for the first time this past season, those farmers who marketed through the pool will receive an average price on No. 1 Northern Wheat basis Fort William, of $1.02, whereas the average price to other farmers has been 99¢ on the same basis, a difference in favor of the wheat pool farmers of 23 cents a bushel. From this must be deducted the total expenses of handling, which amount to less than one-half cent a bushel. The pool handled a total of 38,000,000 bushels.

THE TOYMAKER AND HIS CARVING IS A PLANT OF VILLAGE GROWTH

When at Christmas time we turn into a toy store or in a large department store toward the toy counter, we are apt to see in our minds' eye the toy and the child. Some of us see and feel ourselves. And in spirit go back to the days when toys were to us, as they are to children, the embodiment of the imagination. The tangible form of our dreams! Sight of the toys, the touch of them, is a magic wand restoring our lost childhood. And so we really end in buying the thing that we like, the thing that takes our fancy. That is, if we have a choice, and are not forced by circumstances of limited stock or limited means to take what we can get.

But the toy reaches farther than this. Behind each is the toy-maker. The man or woman whose deft fingers shape the thing of art and life out of unpromising and wholly unsuggestive raw material. Thus Canada has men, art-craftsmen, who see in the forest-log latest figures of saints, windmills, weather-vans, miniature canoes, legends of Mother Hubbard.

Take the part-French, part-Indian, maker of the toy-canoe that so delights the hearts of little boys even when for lack of lake, river or sea in their neighborhood they are forced to sail it in the bath-tub, or just carry it to bed clasped in chubby arms, at night, as a sort of galleon whereon to sail away to the land of dreams, is there not in the carver a spirit of race? The French trait of "sculpture" as the wood-carver calls himself down in Quebec, and the elemental knowledge and association of the canoe that in the Indian reaches back to prehistoric days in this great stretch of country that is Canada.

It would be difficult to say which side of him aids the other more, but it is true that in combination, he is something more of an artist than the United States or Mexico to the South, without such combination, he is a boat. A born toy-maker. Someone who gets into the toy that prescient something which is of the spirit and of life, and which makes it art-objects rather than a mere thing of wood. So fine in its lines that it is no mere substitute but a miniature of the larger canoe—the boat of a race. No less than the Viking ship or the gondola is the boat of a race and a people.

Did we see the artistry and human interest, not to speak of the nationality, the true Canadianism in such toys, we would select them and put them more in the hands of children than we do. Even in giving the purely mechanical toy to the child the youngster not having arrived at the age of mechanical proceeds to see the suggestion, the romance, the story, the association. As to wit the "chu-chu" train, rather than the mechanism, the romance, which are far too small to interest the mind at that stage.

And when they happen upon the canoe-carver at work out-of-doors in one of those many quaint and historic villages along the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Quebec, his own child seated on the logs, one of the rough canoes in his little hand, how envious it makes you feel for the city child! For the toymaker and his carving is a plant of village things, too, are in the tiny canoe over which the mind of childhood dreams—Victoria Hayward.

Financing the Farm

HARD work alone will not make the most of your farm opportunity.

The careful financing needed nowadays will be easier if you deal with The Bank of Toronto.

A deposit account will enable you to make your payments by cheque, avoiding the necessity of carrying large sums of money at risk of loss. The paid cheques give you a permanent record of transactions that prove your payments beyond question.

Our local manager will be glad to talk over your financial matters with you.
